Our Corporate Offset Service

Yacht Carbon Offset provides an immediate and effective way to counterbalance unavoidable greenhouse gas emissions. Our service is specialised to the yachting industry and is applicable to more than just a yacht's fuel consumption.

1. We work with you to identify the corporate activities that the company would like to offset.

2. We calculate the greenhouse gas emissions associated with the identified corporate activities.

4. We issue a personalised certificate stating the tonnes of emissions, activities offset, and project selected.

3. We complete the offset by supporting a high-quality carbon reduction project, validated by one of four International Carbon Registries.

Why Use Yacht Carbon Offset?

With many carbon offsetting companies to choose from, we believe that our transparent, yachting industry-focused service stands out from the crowd. Our friendly team provides a personalised service of the highest quality certified by Lloyds Register Quality Assurance.

Corporate Aspects

Offsetting can be applied to many aspects of a corporation's activities, including business travel, hotel accommodation and office power. It is up to you to decide what you wish to include in the scope of your corporate carbon offset, and we are happy to advise on this matter.

Flights

Greenhouse gases released during air travel have a significant impact on the environment due to their release at high altitude directly into the atmosphere. Our flight emissions calculator allows you to accurately offset the impact of any flights by providing us with only the departure and destination information.

Car

A daily source of greenhouse gas emissions are cars and trucks. The calculation can include anything from large vehicles performing deliveries, to car and taxi usage for daily commutes and business trips.

Hotel

The carbon footprint of a standard hotel stay can also be calculated and counterbalanced. Using the location of the hotel and the number of rooms and nights we are able to make an informed estimate of the environmental impact relating to the hotel stays of business trips.

Office

The carbon footprint of running an office is one of the emission contributors that often gets overlooked. However, using a corporations location and size we can calculate an approximation of the expected carbon footprint of an office to carbon offset the impact.

Develop your corporation with the peace of mind that the carbon impact of the company is counterbalanced

Projects & Certificate

Selected Projects

Using our service you can support one of our carefully selected carbon reduction projects. All projects are located in developing countries and include renewable energy power projects and coastal marine ecosystem projects. Here is a sample of the projects we support.
